

Network Tab

The network tab allows you to view the available ports allocated to your server, If you have multiple ports allocated to your server, You will be able to manage which port is primary (connection port)

Ports are at its core are theoretical doorways for programs to communicate over the internet. Ports are usually closed, but can be opened to allow connections to/from 3rd party plugins for Minecraft, RCON for game consoles etc, they all have the ability, if not forced to use ports for communication

*Note* At this time you are unable to assign your own ports, Please request one in a ticket on our support discord server
